The type of personal information we collect

We currently collect and process the following information:

- Name and contact email address are required, contact phone number asked for but not required.

How we get the personal information and why we have it

Most of the personal information we process is provided to us directly by you for one of the following reasons:

- To book tickets for the High Weald Walking Festival
- To update you with information about the High Weald Walking Festival (if you have consented to join our mailing list)

We use the information that you have given us to send you e-tickets and confirmation details for guided walks booked at the High Weald Walking Festival. We may also use these details to contact you in the event a walk is cancelled.

We may share this information with the leader of any guided walks you book as part of the Festival, to enable them to contact you about your walk. They will not contact you for any other purpose and will delete your details after the walk.

Under the General Data Protection Regulation (GDPR), the lawful bases we rely on for processing this information are:

(a) Your consent. You are able to remove your consent at any time. You can do this by contacting emma.white@highweald.org

How we store your personal information

Your information is securely stored on the Eventbrite booking system if you have booked a ticket with us. If you are on our mailing list, your details are stored in Mailchimp.

These two platforms store their data in the US, but are both certified with the EU-US Privacy Shield Framework which means that we comply with a heightened standard when handling Personal Data transferred to the US from the European Union.

Mailing list

We keep your name and contact email for 3 years, unless you contact us and ask us to delete your details from our system.

Ticket bookings

We keep your name and contact email for six months. We will then dispose of your information by deleting your booking records from our system.

Your data protection rights

Under data protection law, you have rights including:

Your right of access - You have the right to ask us for copies of your personal information.

Your right to rectification - You have the right to ask us to rectify personal information you think is inaccurate. You also have the right to ask us to complete information you think is incomplete.

Your right to erasure - You have the right to ask us to erase your personal information in certain circumstances.

Your right to data portability - You have the right to ask that we transfer the personal information you gave us to another organisation, or to you, in certain circumstances.

Please contact us at info@highweald.org if you wish to make a request.

How to complain

If you have any concerns about our use of your personal information, you can make a complaint to us at info@highweald.org
